Life After Retirement*

What are you going to do for yourself and what will the cost be?

Are your expectations of returns on your investments realistic?

Will your investments keep up with inflation?

Are taxes a major consideration for you?

What is the most favorable way for you to create your cash flow?

Will your heirs be sustained financially when you are no longer with them?

What is the most suitable way to transfer my wealth?

Is conversion to a Roth IRA more efficient than my Traditional IRA?

Retirement may be the end of your working life, but it certainly is not the end of your financial life. There are many considerations to be examined before electing a course of action; then, who will monitor the course with you? Prudence would dictate that professional guidance should be used.

The show is directed by Danni Kleiman, with Art Direction by Jody Church, costumes by Kate Tarleton, and music direction by Mike Amaral.

checo as Polonius; Dylan Soule as Laertes; Jeremy Bare as Horatio; William Rogers as Rosencrantz; and Jonathan Hathaway as Guildenstern.

The in-school performance will take place on Thursday, May 31 at 9:00 am with a public performance

Linane of Saugus, MA, and Elise Goyette of Rochester became officially engaged as they crossed the finish line in boat #43, having completed the race course in 2:40:25. M.J. made arrangements with family members who hung a banner across the arch bridge near the end of the Mattapoisett River course, asking Elise to marry him. Family members held the engagement ring for safe-keeping at the finish line. (Photo by Tim Smith).

Above: Second graders at Rochester's Memorial School took their annual walking field trip to the Firefighters' Memorial to plant red geraniums. For the past six years, the young gardeners have planted before Memorial Day to give back to the community that has given so much to them. Armed with a variety of digging tools, watering cans, and a host of parent volunteers, these children enjoyed the work and appreciated the support of the Highway Department, Fire Department, and Police Department. The Rochester Memorial School Drama Club will perform The Bard's classic for fellow students on Thursday, May 31 at 9:00 am, with a public performance slated for Friday night, June 1 at 7:00 pm. The show is directed by Danni Kleiman and tickets are $7 at the door. (Photo by Kenneth J. Souza).

"Rowing on the River"

Boat Race Showcases Tradition, Technology

By Kenneth J. Souza

Seventy-five two-person teams made their way down the Mattapoisett River from Grandma Hartley's Reservoir in Rochester on Monday, May 28 for the Annual Memorial Day Boat Race. Repeat winners Sean Shaw of Rochester and C.J. Hedges IV of Hamden, CT (Team #1) took their eighth win in the 2007 competition and now remain just one race away from achieving a record-setting trophy for three consecutive wins ... for the third time! They completed the estimated 11-mile trek in 1:50:09.

Race regulars Dan Lawrence and Brenden Chase, both of Mattapoisett (Team #2), took second place honors, coming in about four minutes after the winners at 1:54:04. Former repeat winners Jeff Eldridge and Walter Gonet (Team #4), both of Rochester, handily took third place with a finish time of 1:54:22.

First place honors in the Parent/Child Division went to Mattapoisett residents Alex Milde and Paul Milde, who came in seventh overall with a finish time of 2:00:54.

First place in the Co-Ed Division went to Team #40 comprised of Helaina Sacco and Peter Sacco, both of Rochester.

It was girl power for Team #21 as Kate Hartley of Rochester and Amy Hartley-Matteson of Mattapoisett took first place in the Women's Division; and Kassandra Gonet and Amanda Eldridge, both of Rochester (Team #66), took first place in the Junior Girls Division.

Top honors in the Junior Boys Division went to Team #71, Nicole Gifford and Tom Gonet, both of Rochester.

But some of the real winners of the race didn't necessarily make the best time ... or the best handmade wooden boats, for that matter.

In a unique twist on a tradition even older than the Memorial Day Boat Race, teammates M.J. Linane of Saugus, MA, and Elise Goyette of Rochester became officially engaged as they crossed the finish line in boat #43, having completed the race course in 2:40:25. M.J. made arrangements with family members who hung a banner across the arch bridge near the end of the River Race course, asking Elise to marry him. The happy couple finished the race ... and began a new adventure together at the same time.

From tradition to technology, this year's Boat Race also employed the use of a unique "BLT" boat location tracker device initially designed by Mattapoissett resident Tim Smith a few years back.

"At one time we had so many relatives going down the river that it became hard to follow them down and snap pictures, toss oranges and shout out support," Mr. Smith said. "A few years ago I built several low-power radio beacon transmitters and attached them to the boats, each sending out a unique identification for each boat. Although they lack the sophistication of a GPS-based device, I can judge their general distance and direction as they approach each checkpoint with a handheld receiver and a signal strength indicator."

Mr. Smith equipped Boat #51 for his niece Kayla Souza and her teammate Eric Xavier, both of Mattapoisett, with his BLT tracking device this year, and he said he could track them within a few minutes — well before anyone could spot them — of each checkpoint.

Of course, given that these are all handmade, wooden boats, Mr. Smith said he had to rely on another "modern technological miracle" to secure the device to the hull.

"We used duct tape," he said.

"A Day to Remember"

Mattapoisett Honors Its Veterans

By Robert Chiarito

Mattapoisett's Florence Eastman Post 280 American Legion welcomed townspeople to join with them as they commemorated their brethren on Memorial Day in ceremonies held at the Center School on Bartsow Street.

After Chaplain Richard Langhoff offered a prayer to open the service, a steady procession of guests stepped to the podium to remind the crowd of the true meaning of Memorial Day. Raymond Andrews, the Chairman of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen, said, "We must remember what those who have served gave for people they would never know, many of them paying the ultimate price for freedom. Freedom is not free."

Old Rochester Junior High School student Hannah O'Day seemed somewhat out of place among the elders of Mattapoisett as she sat amidst the men in their uniforms and Legion hats ... that is, until she stood and gave a stirring reading of Abraham Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address." Ms. O'Day received a long round of applause as Post Commander Michael Lamoureaux remarked, "How is that for understatement?" in response to the address' famous line: "The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here."

"It's only the most quoted speech in history," he said. "Please give Ms. O'Day a big hand!"

The day's featured speaker was LTC Anthony Ruocco, USA, (retired) of Rochester. Colonel Ruocco used his time to remind the gathering that there is more to Memorial Day than many Americans remember. "For many of us, Memorial Day is the beginning of summer," he said. "Maybe you've pulled out the grill and yard furniture and cleaned them off in anticipation of a cookout. For some people, it is a time to take advantage of a big sale or to attend the latest summer blockbuster at the movie theater."

Colonel Ruocco continued, "We must, however, never forget the sacrifices made for this country by the men and women of the armed forces. It is them whom we remember today."

After the Old Hammondtown School Orchestra played the Star Spangled Banner, a parade line was formed and the speakers and their guests moved the ceremony to the Mattapoissett waterfront. As a wreath was tossed in the water from Long Wharf, members of the New Bedford High School JROTC Firing Squad gave a twenty-one gun salute to honor veterans who lost their lives at sea. The ceremony continued on to the Cushing Cemetery with another salute given for those who perished on land.

The members of American Legion Post 280 then invited those who wished to join them in a lighter salute at the post's hall on Depot Street, where refreshments were enjoyed by welcomed veterans and the people of

"Remember the Heroes"

Marion Observers Solemn Memorial Day By Robert Chiarito

The people of Marion have a long a history of service that dates back to the founding of the Nation. On Memorial Day, that history was remembered and honored in ceremonies and services throughout the day.

A huge crowd of several hundred people turned out at the start of the day for services at the war memorial in front of the town's Music Hall at 9:00 am. Members of the Benjamin D. Cushing Post 2425 VFW began the day by placing flags and a wreath at the statue's base to honor the men and women of Marion who answered the call of her country during times of war. ORR students Chelsea Nectow and Doug Zeppenfeld lent their voices to the proceedings as Ms. Nectow sang a hymn and Mr. Zeppenfeld recited the Gettysburg Address.

Selectmen Roger Blanchette, Andrew Jeffrey and Jonathan Henry then led a parade from the Music Hall to Marion Town House. The procession included the Sipican School Band and the Portuguese-American Band of New Bedford playing "She's a Grand Old Flag" as the crowd trailed behind.

Once the procession had arrived at the podium erected outside of the Town House, Selectman Jeffery took a moment to thank all of the young people who had taken the time to participate in the day's events. His voiced filled with emotion, the selectman recounted a party that he had recently attended for a Marion resident who was about to deploy to Iraq.

"This was a person who I did not know and yet I could not help but be moved by this young man's devotion to his country," Mr. Jeffery said. Mr. Jeffery then yielded the podium to Selectman Jonathan Henry. Mr. Henry, dressed in his Army Colonel's uniform, recounted the day nearly 40 years earlier when he received his commission upon graduation from Providence College.

"I was commissioned on June 6 forty years ago — D-day — and the importance of that day was not lost on me," he recalled. "I joined the Corps of Army Engineers during the Vietnam War. I didn't know what I was going to face and I was nervous but, what really stayed with me was this ... I was asked to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America. Not any political party. Not any particular political point of view, not any person, not the President of the United States. I was asked to uphold the Constitution and that is what this day is all about to me."

Joe Napoli, Chairman of Marion's Planning Board, whose family has a long history of military service, then offered a prayer for Marion servicemen who had passed away over the last year. Mr. Napoli summed up the day's mood as he prayed saying, "We acknowledge this day's special blessings. We have honored those who now enjoy the eternal embrace and we ask thy blessing on all here present. We especially ask consolation for those recently bereaved and ask that thy grace be with them now and forever."

Marion Voters Retain Henry, Opt for Appointed Treasurer/Collector

By Kenneth J. Souza

Although all three candidates running for the sole three-year on the Marion Board of Selectmen had previously served in that capacity, voters decided to keep incumbent Jonathan Henry in office for another term on Tuesday, May 29. Mr. Henry, who collected 415 votes, managed to narrowly defeat challengers Joseph P. Zora Sr. and David K. Pierce, who garnered 386 and 329 votes, respectively.

"I'm very happy to be returned to work for the Town of Marion," Mr. Henry said upon hearing the results election night. "I'm kind of surprised, just like the first time I was elected. It's been kind of a tough race because of some of the contentious issues — water rates, in particular. People were very unequivocal in their displeasure about having to pay these exorbitant rates. But I think this gives us a chance to work on long-term solutions to long-term problems. I'm glad that there's not going to be an upheaval in the management process."

"I've worked with (Mr. Henry) for years and I think very highly of him," Mr. Pierce said of his loss. "I think the town will be under fine management with him in the office."

Despite Mr. Pierce's second consecutive defeat in an effort to return to the Selectmen's office — he lost a re-election bid to sitting Selectman Roger Blanchette just last year — Mr. Pierce said he would entertain running again at some point.

"I hope so," he offered at the polls Tuesday night.

Although he fell just 29 votes short of Mr. Henry's final total, runner-up Joseph P. Zora Sr. said he wasn't surprised with the outcome of the election.

"I expected it," he said from home Tuesday night. "What bothers me most is how the Town of Marion is going now. But I knew this was going to happen."

Stressing that at age 82 the only reason he ran for the seat this time out was because several residents called and asked him to, Mr. Zora was philosophical about his loss.

"I have no regrets and I'm not mad at anybody," Mr. Zora said. "Like I told (Mr. Henry) this morning, there will be one winner and two losers. That's just the way it is."

Though many residents thought the hotly-contested three-way race for the Selectman's seat would have brought out more voters, a mere 1,157 voters made their way to the polls, or roughly 32 percent of all registered voters in the town, according to Town Clerk Ray Pickles.

The other draw for many was the single ballot question asking voters to opt for an appointed Treasurer and Tax Collector position over the previously elected offices. The referendum won handily, 583 in favor to 481 against. Not surprisingly, neither office boasted any candidates on the same election ballot.

In other contested races, incumbent Bradford N. Eames retained his three-year seat on the Board of Assessors, defeating Stephen G. Carnazza, 603 to 480; Jason E.

Congratulations are in order for Tabor Academy's Sailing Team as they captured the ISSA team national title in New Orleans on Sunday, May 27. Team members included Coleman Bowen, Alyssa Aitken, Schuyler Hemmerdinger, Cory DeCollibus, Sean Ross and Sarah Burks.

In what was his last meet as a high school athlete, ORR's Peter Asci once again was the class of the field as he cleared 6 feet, 7 inches to win the high jump event at the EMASS Division 4 meet on Saturday, May 26. Asci will not attend the All-State meet this coming week in Holyoke, choosing instead to attend ORR's Graduation Ceremonies. Asci's younger brother, Sam Asci, however, will be at the meet having finished second in the discus Reusch will be at the Holyoke meet and is expected to be among the favorites there as well. The Lady Bulldogs' 4x400 relay team also took a first to qualify for next weeks race as they bested the field with a time of 4:10.82.3. Dogs, cats, as well as ferrets can get heartworms.

What are the signs of heartworms in cats?

Sudden difficulty breathing sometimes leading to death occurs occasionally. Other signs include coughing, gagging, vomiting and weight loss.

ATTENTION DRIVERS

If you are involved in a collision you have the right to have your investment, your vehicle, repaired at a shop of your choice. Your insurance company may suggest a list of repair shops. Do not be persuaded by this list, it is not a guarantee of quality of services, nor does it limit your options. You want a shop who will work for you and with you to put your vehicle back to pre-accident condition. COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. is a licensed, bonded, registered repair shop with the state of Massachusetts. We work with all insurance companies to expedite your repairs. The important thing to remember is we repair the vehicle for you, our customers, not the insurance companies. So remember, if the need arises, contact COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. to get back on the road.

Vintage Baseball

The Ironsides Base Ball Club is looking for anyone interested in 19th century baseball. The Ironsides Base Ball Club takes its name from an actual baseball club that began playing in New Bedford in 1858. They will play the game wearing uniforms and using the rules and equipment of 1858. They are scheduled to play two games during the week of August 4-12 and are currently recruiting players, umpires, scorekeepers, and sideline interpreters.

During this week they are planning a 19th century "pick-up" game with Mattapoisett residents. No experience is necessary, just a love for the game and an interest in baseball history. Leave your glove at home. For further information or to sign up, please call Kyle DeCicco-Carey at 508-758-3308 or visit the SouthCoast Vintage Base Ball web site at www.scvbb.org or info@scvbb.org. Practice will be at Hastings Middle School, Field #3 in Fairhaven. If you saw an announcement for practice and you just want to show up, you're welcome.

Local Marion Scholarships. The Scholarship/Education Fund was established under Massachusetts General Law, Chapter 60, Section 3C and adopted by Town Meeting in April 1994, allowing the voluntary contribution form to be included with the real estate tax bills.

This year, five Marion residents were awarded a $900 scholarship to pursue education beyond the secondary school level for the academic year 2007-2008.

We had many outstanding applicants making the selection very difficult. The committee took into consideration each applicant's financial need, character, scholastic record, and involvement in community work, as well as extracurricular school activities.

This year the recipients of the award are: Michelle Barrows, Shannon Choquette, Kathleen Hourihan, and Alex Maag

To the Editor:

The First Annual PMC Kids Tri-Town Ride was a huge success despite the weather. It was so amazing to see over 150 smiling children ride into the finish on Saturday, May 19. They gave it their all and surpassed the $10,000 goal set for the event. The event raised about $11,000 and continues to grow with sponsor support and donations. A raffle, the McGraws' bake sale, sponsors from local businesses and the Mattapoisett Police Association joined the children in their fundraising efforts.

On behalf of the PMC Kids Tri-Town Ride Committee, we would like to thank all of those who helped to make the event a success. Those who contributed include riders and their families, Center School Principal Jack Murphy, the Mattapoisett Police Department, our sponsors, bake sale contributors and the 75-plus volunteers. Members of the community pulled together for this event. Enthusiasm and pride could be felt amongst every one in attendance.

A special thank you to the PMC Kids Tri-Town Ride Committee. This group began meeting early in the year to plan

Straus, Montigny Honored

Having navigated strong identity theft protection bills through the Massachusetts House and Senate, State Representative William Straus and State Senator Mark Montigny earned congratulations from MASSPIRG for their leadership in support of the legislation.

"Representative Straus and Senator Montigny helped move forward a strong identity theft protection bill that will go a long way in preventing identity theft in Massachusetts," said Eric Bourassa, MASSPIRG's Consumer Advocate. "We appreciate their work on this legislation."

The House and Senate passed similar identity theft protection bills on May 9 and May 10, respectively. Now the bill goes to a conference committee to work out differences in the legislation before it can be sent to Governor Patrick for his approval. Representative Straus was the original bill sponsor in the House and Senator Montigny introduced an amendment to the Senate bill that strengthened the legislation.

Among the key consumer protections in the House and Senate bills are:

- Requirements that businesses and government agencies notify affected individuals if enough of their personal information that could be used to commit identity theft, is lost or stolen.
- The ability for consumers to place a "security freeze" on their credit reports to prevent would-be identity thieves from opening new credit accounts and racking

OHS Final Performances

On June 5, the award-winning Old Hammondtown School (OHS) Orchestra, Jazz Band and Chorus will perform their final concert of the 2006-2007 year. The orchestra, under the direction of Stan Ellis and Jean West, will perform the pieces that won them a gold medal at the Massachusetts Instrumental and Choral Conductors Society's competition and a performance at Symphony Hall. The Old Hammondtown Jazz Combo, under the direction of Stan Ellis, will also perform selections that earned them a gold medal at the jazz educators competition this school year. Rochester Country Fair

Summer is almost here ... and soon, the Rochester Country Fair will be here, too. Rochester will be celebrating its Eighth Annual event August 15 through August 19, 2007. The Fair Committee welcomes everyone to participate in the many events and contests planned, some of which will go along with this year's theme, "Set Sail to the Islands." But don't worry if you're not up to Coconut Bowling, Aloha Sack Races, or the Tiki Hutt Building Contest Challenge, prior year's favorites such as the Frog Derby, Bicycle Parade, and Pie Bake-Off will also return. Other new events and contests for 2007 include a "Seasons of Rochester" Photo Contest and a Horse Shoe labeled 'holy water' in the liquor cabinet and becomes overwhelmed with curiosity about the people who used to live in her house. Next, Kathleen Lusk Brooke and her husband, George, love that their home was built with elegant and expensive materials, but they wonder how they got to the small New England town of Mattapoisett, MA, and who could afford to put them there. Then, Monty Dixon thought everything in her Belleville, IL, home was sold in an estate sale before she moved in, but it turns out that there are still treasures lurking in the dark basement. Finally, when Sharon and Dave Oster bought their dream home in Boise, Idaho, they never expected to find whiskey bottles under the floorboards and a secret room in the basement."

Marion Band Blast

The community is invited to bring a chair and enjoy music, food, games and special raffles at Sippican School on Thursday, June 7. The school's "Band Blast" is a way for the community to help celebrate the instrumental talent at Sippican School. The Mardi Gras theme will include lots of Mardi Gras beads, masks, crowns and wands.

The student bands will perform throughout the evening while guests enjoy hamburgers, hot dogs, popcorn, and a fabulous bake sale. The dunk tank has been such a hit in the past that this year there will be two dunk tanks. Guests can win a cake at the "cake walk," or enter a raffle to win Red Sox tickets donated by Lockheed Martin.

The Band Blast will take place on Thursday, June 7 from 4:30 to 7:30 pm on the front lawn of Sippican School. In case of rain, the fun will be taken inside. Money raised at the Band Blast helps cover costs of festivals the bands participate in throughout the year, as well as bus fees, supplies and scholarships. Sippican School is lo-

Complete instructions for use and other information will be given out with the dunks. They are available at the Mattapoisett Board of Health office during regular business hours at no charge. Marion Fireworks Drive

Marion has a long tradition of celebrating our nation's Independence Day with an evening of music and fireworks. This year, after polling the community, the Marion Fireworks Committee has scheduled the event for the evening of Tuesday, July 3, 2007. As usual, the fireworks will be launched from a barge off of Silver Shell Beach, providing great viewing from land and sea.

However, the Fireworks Committee still needs to raise approximately $25,000 to cover the cost of the fireworks display and supporting police, fire and safety details. Funding for the event is entirely through private donations ... no tax dollars are supplied by the Town of Marion. We have picked the date and selected the fireworks company, but we need sufficient funding before we can finalize the contract.

Please give generously and send in your contribution as early as possible. Make your checks payable to the "Town of Marion - Fireworks" and send them to Fireworks, Marion Town Hall, 2 Spring Street, Marion, MA 02738.

The Marion Fireworks Committee thanks you in advance for your support: Reg Foster; Jack Beck; Eric Coble; Chris Collings; Sis Durkee; Pam Evans; Pat McBride; Tom Owens; Allyn Streeter; Gary Thornell; Anthony Ucci.

images of warm tropical isles and sunny beaches and, to a certain extent, such images are correct. With the exception of the leatherback, adult sea turtles are tropical or sub-tropical creatures. However, certain species of sea turtles come north as juveniles to feed along the East Coast and return south before the onset of winter.

Although Cape Cod Bay and Nantucket Sound are extensively used by both commercial and pleasure craft, few sight records of sea turtles exist. Even people who spend a great deal of time on the water are surprised to learn that five species of sea turtles are present in our waters. Cape Cod Bay contains one of the largest known concentrations of subadult ridley turtles. We see loggerheads along the shore during the fall. Green turtles come into Nantucket Sound and the waters surrounding Martha's Vineyard on a regular basis. Leatherbacks migrate past the Cape on their way north to feeding grounds in the Arctic. The chance of seeing a hawksbill is so slim that one hesitates to even include it as one of the five species.

Compared to their land-bound relatives, sea turtles have evolved to enormous proportions; their buoyancy in water eliminates the problem of gravity.

Sea turtles' life histories are similar to those of other turtles, but because their "pond" is the Atlantic, Pacific, or Indian Ocean, we know much less about them. Like other turtles, sea turtles lay their eggs in sand, usually on a tropical beach. In the spring, the female struggles ashore and begins to dig her nest. Depending on the species, the eggs hatch within 40-70 days. The hatchlings linger under the sand until the majority of the eggs have hatched, then the eruption begins. With the lower hatchlings pushing from below, the baby turtles emerge. During their dash to the sea, the soft-shelled hatchlings make an easy meal for predators such as gulls and ghost crabs. Those that reach the ocean face a new set of predators.

The deepest mystery surrounding sea turtles is what happens to them during their first two years of life. Because they are so small there is no way to tag or keep track of them. No one knows where they go; they head out to sea and just vanish. A growing body of evidence indicates that they head out to seaweed patches and live among this drift. Bodies of hatchlings have been found washed ashore in seaweed, and in the stomachs of sharks and fish. Records of hatchlings are so scanty that their whereabouts are subject of much speculation.

One early speculation was that sea turtles rode north to Cape Cod via the Gulf Stream. With the exception of leatherbacks, however, only a few sea turtles have been seen in the Gulf Stream. Apparently, juvenile or subadult turtles drop out of the Gulf Stream and are frequently found along the coast. Coastal wandering in search of food brings many sea turtles, especially ridleys and loggerheads, to Cape Cod. Others are caught in pound nets in Chesapeake Bay and Long Island Sound. Older and larger individuals have been recorded as far away as Europe.

When sea turtles mature, they return to the tropical areas of their birth, possibly to the very beach where they hatched. After returning, the turtles mate and settle in tropical and sub-tropical waters, wandering no more. The leatherback is the exception to this scenario as well as the exception to other general turtle facts. The leatherback, with a record weight of 2,000 pounds, is the heaviest of all reptiles. Today it is extremely rare to find any individuals over 800 pounds. Size alone is enough to identify this blotchy dark-brown to black-skinned reptile.

Another major difference is that the leatherback is warm-blooded. It is able to maintain a body temperature of about 80 degrees Fahrenheit by means of a special heat exchange system: warm outgoing arterial blood passes directly by the incoming colder venous blood. Thus, incoming blood is warmed and little heat is lost.

Leatherback nesting beaches, like all Caribbean and tropical beaches, are under great pressure from development, which would mean the demise of leatherbacks on those shores. Another threat to leatherbacks is their habit of getting entangled in lobster pots here in the Northeast. It is not clear at this time how big a problem entanglement presents to the population as a whole.

As juveniles, leatherbacks may remain in warmer waters to our south, but as subadults and adults they undertake the longest migration in the reptile world. From the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean, leatherbacks head north to feeding grounds near the Arctic Sea where they feed extensively on jellyfish. They often stop in Cape Cod Bay on their return trip south in August and September to feed on jellyfish and comb jellies in our waters.

Each fall beginning in November, sea turtles wash ashore along Cape Cod Bay. When the wind blows from the northwest and the Bay water is below 50 degrees Fahrenheit, we can usually count on finding one or more turtles washed ashore anywhere along the bay beaches. It very important to recover all of the stranded turtles, dead or alive. While a stranded sea turtle may look dead, chances are it is still alive; with proper treatment at the sanctuary and at the New England Aquarium, it will recover and can be rehabilitated and released. If you find a turtle along a beach or if you are interested in helping

All sea turtles are protected by the Marine Turtle Protection Act. It is illegal to molest, harass, catch, or kill them, or to possess any part of a sea turtle. Scientists are still trying to put together the remaining pieces of the sea turtle puzzle, so if you observe or find a sea turtle, report it. MOVIE REVIEW

Creep Show

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Bug. Starring Ashley Judd and Michael Shannon. Directed by William Friedkin. Running time: 102 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

Remember the character in A Scanner Darkly who thought aphids were crawling all over him? Bug is like a movie about that character and Ashley Judd in a motel room. And, much to the chagrin of those lured into theaters by Lionsgate's wildly misleading ad campaign — which makes the film look like Slither or something — that's pretty much all Bug is about. I knew going in that it was a psychological two-character drama (with three supporting players), so I wasn't expecting a gore-and-latex-fest. What I didn't know going in was how tedious an exercise it would prove to be.

Judd gives one of her tormented-white-trash performances as Agnes, a waitress in a lesbian bar, though herself heterosexual. Agnes is dreading the return of her abusive ex-husband (Harry Connick Jr.) from prison. One afternoon about ten years ago, Agnes took her young son to the supermarket, he was kidnapped and never found, and she's never gotten over it. She spends her nights snorting coke, counting her crumpled tips, and existing on the knife edge between loneliness and despair. In short, Agnes is a dream role for an actress hungry to leave mainstream fare far behind. Judd enacts Agnes' misery skillfully enough, but the character hardly makes any sense.

Agnes' coworker (Lynn Collins) brings a mysterious man into Agnes' life — Peter (Michael Shannon), who seems good-hearted, if withdrawn. Shannon, perhaps best known of late as the zealous Marine who saved the cops' lives in World Trade Center, has a creepy baby face that lends itself well to obsessive characters. So it's not too surprising when Peter, a Gulf War vet, turns out to have a few screws loose. Like Rory Cochrane in A Scanner Darkly, Peter feels bugs on him — bugs no one else can see. Soon they're not only on his skin, they're under his skin, and then in his blood. Rather too quickly, Agnes believes Peter's story, which metastasizes into full-blown conspiracy-theory paranoia enveloping everyone from Jim Jones to Timothy McVeigh (what, no Elvis?). The pair, soon flailing around in mutual hysteria, hole up in rooms literally wallpapered with tin foil.

William Friedkin directed Bug, and I have nothing much bad to say about the way he holds up his end of the deal. He delivers a tight, upsetting bit of work without falling into the quick-cut, shock-tactic habits of his inferiors. The fatal problem with Bug starts with the screenplay, adapted by Tracy Letts from his own stage play (Shannon originated his role onstage). This material badly wants to be searing and disturbing, but it's all too obviously conceived as showboat material for actors, with little room for subtlety. Eventually, when Ashley Judd has to scream "I AM THE SUPER MOTHER BUG!", it's the sort of flashy theatrical moment that unavoidably becomes camp on the big screen. The actors work their tails off, but the material is essentially unsurprising and predetermined. It stays its psychotic course to the bitter, fiery end, which I suppose is some form of integrity, though not particularly edifying or entertaining.

For all its pretense, Bug plays like an overextended episode of the Showtime series Masters of Horror, and not one of the better ones, either. It deals in careless stereotypes — Crazy War Vet! Abused and Self-Abusing Southern Chick! — and brings real-world pain and atrocity, unearned, into its hermetic little duelling-monologue universe to beef it up. If not for the exertions of the actors, and if not for the welcome sight of William Friedkin weighing in with career-comeback direction, Bug probably wouldn't be getting such a free ride from many critics. Is it more ambitious than most modern horror movies? Yes. Does ambition equal success? Don't we all wish it did.

McLaren was a longtime resident of Beaufort County and is also a summer resident of Mattapoisett. Other books include A Book for Boston, Berlin and the Berliners and India: The Village, the People for which she was given an award of merit by the government of India.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might have to turn your Arian charm up a few degrees if you hope to persuade that persistent pessimist to see the possibilities in your project. Whatever you do, don't give up.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A "tip" about a co-worker's "betrayal" might well raise the Bovine's rage levels. But before charging into a confrontation, let an unbiased colleague do some fact checking.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Although a relationship still seems to be moving too slowly to suit your expectations, it's best not to push it. Let it develop at its own pace. You'll soon get news about a workplace change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A continually changing personal situation makes you feel as if you're riding an emotional roller coaster. But hold on tight; stability starts to set in early next week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Believe it or not, someone might dare to say "No!" to the Regal One's suggestion. But instead of being miffed, use this rebuff to recheck the proposition and, perhaps, make some changes.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You might find it difficult to make a decision about a family matter. But delay can only lead to more problems. Seek out trusted counsel and then make that important decision.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Concentrate your focus on what needs to be done, and avoid frittering away your energies on less-important pursuits. There'll be time later for fun and games.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Although the conflicts seem to be letting up, you still need to be wary of being drawn into workplace intrigues. Plan a special weekend event for family and/or friends.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your quick wit helps you work through an already difficult situation without creating more problems. Creative aspects begin to dominate by the week's end.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Be patient. You'll soon receive news about a project that means so much to you. Meanwhile, you might want to reconsider a suggestion you previously turned down.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) There are still some aspects about that new job offer you need to resolve. In the meantime, another possibility seems promising. Be sure to check that out as well.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Opening up your emotional floodgates could leave you vulnerable to being hurt later on. Watch what you say, in order to avoid having your words come back to haunt you.

BORN THIS WEEK: You're usually the life of the party, which gets you on everyone's invitation list. You also have a flair for politics.

Rochester Girl Scouts

On Monday, June 4 at 7:00 pm, Rochester Girl Scouts will hold a spring-for-fall Troop Formation Meeting at the First Congregational Church of Rochester, 11 Constitution Way, off Route 105. The meeting will last an hour.

Troop Formation Night is for family adults of girls entering grades K through 12 in September. Adults will help form their child's fall troop, working with others to select the day and time that works best for them. Adults will complete registration forms and pay the $10 per person national membership fee at the meeting.

Girls Scouts is the largest organization for girls in the world building girls with the confidence, courage and character to become resourceful, productive citizens. Girl Scout troops meet weekly or biweekly in community buildings and, unlike the days of the lone leader, are guided by large teams of caring women and men volunteers. All troop volunteers are CORI checked and receive training and on-going support. Adult volunteers network with others, learn and share skills, gain valuable resume-

Your artwork could be printed on the cover of The Wanderer

This summer The Wanderer will be holding three cover artwork contests which are open to every creative person in the tri-town area. People can submit drawings, photographs, or any type of artwork that we would be able to print on our cover. Once all entries are in, the public will also be invited to vote for their favorite via our website (www.wanderer.com). The winner will get their artwork printed on the cover of The Wanderer in addition to winning a great prize!

For more information visit:

I found the Aardvark!

Each week we will give away an Aardvark Gift and each month we give away a special Aardvark Gift Basket to one lucky person. All you have to do to enter is find the Aardvark! The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

The winner will be selected from all the correct answers picked by the deadline and the prize will have to be picked up at our office. Only one entry per household per issue please.

To enter, simply find the aardvark in this issue, then go to our web page and select the link "I Found the Aardvark" entry page. If you would like to enter by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739.

Winner, past location and prizes listed on our website at: www.wanderer.com Click on "I Found the Aardvark"

In the May 24 issue the Aardvark was hiding on Page 33!
